DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

Claim 1 is objected to because of the following informalities: applicant is combining a semiconductor laser claim device with a process of forming the device. Appropriate correction is required.

Double Patenting

Applicant is advised that should claim 4 be found allowable, claims 2 and 3 will be objected to under 37 CFR 1.75 as being a substantial duplicate thereof. When two claims in an application are duplicates or else are so close in content that they both cover the same thing, despite a slight difference in wording, it is proper after allowing one claim to object to the other as being a substantial duplicate of the allowed claim. See MPEP § 706.03(k).

Applicant is advised that should claim 10 be found allowable, claims 7 and 8 will be objected to under 37 CFR 1.75 as being a substantial duplicate thereof. When two claims in an application are duplicates or else are so close in content that they both cover the same thing, despite a slight difference in wording, it is proper after allowing one claim to object to the other as being a substantial duplicate of the allowed claim. See MPEP § 706.03(k).

Applicant is advised that should claim 9 be found allowable, claim 11 will be objected to under 37 CFR 1.75 as being a substantial duplicate thereof. When two claims in an application are duplicates or else are so close in content that they both cover the same thing, despite a slight difference in wording, it is proper after allowing one claim to object to the other as being a substantial duplicate of the allowed claim.

See MPEP § 706.03(k).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Regarding claim 1,

The limitation which describes the thickness of the dielectric layer as "(suitable for a desired resonance wavelength)" implies a wish or hope for a result, thereby the claim is vague and incomplete.

Regarding claim 6,

The limitation which describes the thickness of the dielectric layer as "(suitable for a desired resonance wavelength)" implies a wish or hope for a result, thereby the claim is vague and incomplete.

The claim describes steps for forming an intermediate layer and active layer but also describes steps for removing such layers thereby the claim is not clear and is contradicting the recited steps.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Paoli (PN 5,699,375).

Figure 1 illustrates a multiple wavelength laser system having plural laser units with a substrate (102), a DBR (104) having alternating layers which provide reflection, an active region (108), an intermediate region (114), top contact layers (160,162) and a top DBR with alternating layers which provide reflection.

FIG. 1

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims ~~3, 4, 8 and 10~~ are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Paoli (PN 5,699,375) in view of Coman et al (PN 6,320,206).

Figure 1 of Paoli illustrates a multiple wavelength laser system having plural laser units with a substrate (102), a DBR (104) having alternating layers which provide reflection, an active region (108), an intermediate region (114), top contact layers (160,162) and a top DBR with alternating layers which provide reflection.

Paoli does not disclose using the particular dielectric alternating materials as claimed in the invention.

Coman et al discloses in column 4 lines 9-15 that such materials as silicon dioxide, titanium oxide and zirconium oxide are used in DBR alternating layers to provide a low index of refraction and a high index of refraction layers.

Therefore, it would have been obvious to a person having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to use any of the known dielectric materials to form DBR of alternating layers within the semiconductor lasers.
